Components Description
Database: stores data
Database server: reads and writes data to the database in an efficient manner
App server: serves backend to the web server Web server: serves content over the internet to the client browser. Accesses static file storage and app server to build and serve content.
Static file storage: stores bundled JS files, picture files, etc that would need to be served by the web server
Internet: network of interconnected devices to share and access information.
Client browser: third party software developed to allow users to view content from sources across the internet